Rush at Postoffice.

The clerks at the postoffice had a weary night. Clerk J. L. Weiler, who has charge of incoming mails, with seven other clerks remained on duty nearly all night. The usual night force is two men. These eight clerks each distributed an average of nearly 3,000 letters alone, all of which had to be canceled with the stamp of the receiving office. Besides this there were eighty sacks of newspapers and periodicals, averaging 100 pounds in each sack, or four tons in all. But all this yast amount of mail, together with the half-dozen pouches each of papers and half-dozen pouches each of papers and letters received over the early Rio Grande Western train, will be ready to send out on the Crst carrier delivery

The passengers arriving last might all said they experienced no hardships, although the delay was annoying.

"Nothing to eat but grub and ne place to sleep but a Pullman car," was the way Fred B. Reed of Boise put it. With Dr. E. K. McKenzie of Boise he came in on the second section and registred at the Kenyon. Mr. Reed was on his way home from St. Louis and Dr. McKenzie from New York.

Robertson arose and in a voice trembling with emotion, announced that he had charge of a very serious nature to prefer against. Joe Enzensperger. Se serious were these charges that nothing less than a public humiliation could be a sufficient punishment. He asked that Mr. Enzensperger be brought on the stage. This was done and Mr. Robertson handed what purported to be the charges to Grand Exalted Ruler Fisher. Mr. Fisher was very grave. He said he had been called on to act in similar cases before, but he had hoped it wouldn't fall to his lot to humiliate any Salt Lake Elk. Raising his voice until it assumed thunderous tones, he continued:

"Brother Enzensperger. you are charged here with fidelity to your lodge, your duty at all, times and under all circumstances. Your brother Elks believe such conduct merits something unusual and it is now my pleasure to present you with this life membership card in the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks."

Bad Boys Arrested.

Three young bays who had barricaded themselves in the cellar of the Twenty-second ward meeting house and set about to break up the meeting there last night by pounding on the floor, were caught-in their den by Officers Busch and Furster and given a ride to the city jail in the patrol wagon. At the station the lads gave their names as David Lamp, Edwin Brooks and Shirley Player, and their ages as 13, 13 and 12 years respectively. The three hid themselves in the cellar last night, and after barring the door to prevent being caught, began to pound on the floor with sticks and shovel handles, raising such a disturbance that the meeting, which was in progress upstairs, could not continue.

Later in the evening the father of young Player called at the station and protested that his son was innocent of any crime whatever. He was allowed to take the boy home on condition that he would have him in court today.
